FOREIGNEXCHANGE APPOINTS SOLUTIONS DEVELOPMENT DIRECTOR

Peralta to focus on customizing solutions to match client needs

Waltham, MA (June 30, 2006)—ForeignExchange Translations, Inc., the leading provider of translation services to medical device, pharmaceutical, and biotech companies, has appointed localization industry veteran Barbara Peralta to the role of Solutions Development Director. Based in ForeignExchange’s global operations center in Colorado, Peralta will work with both new and existing clients, developing innovative, customized processes and workflows to reflect their specific challenges.

“I am very excited about working with ForeignExchange on building and deepening our customer relations through service, innovation and delivery,” Peralta says. “ForeignExchange’s unique focus in the life sciences sector brings with it some interesting challenges, and I am very much looking forward to meeting those challenges head-on.”

Peralta has spent the past 17 years working within the localization field, starting out as a project manager and taking on progressively more demanding roles, including managing a localization production group of 200 people. More recently she served as a business unit manager, account manager, and site manager for Lionbridge. Peralta completed her undergraduate studies at the University of Texas and earned a Masters degree at the University of Michigan.

“We are more than pleased to have Barbara join our team,” says Sonia Monahan, ForeignExchange’s Vice President of Operations. “Our aggressive growth has led to more challenges and more clients with unique requirements. Barbara’s extensive localization expertise will be invaluable as we endeavor to tailor our processes to create a perfect fit for those clients.”
